

5. ALBERI GENEALOGICI

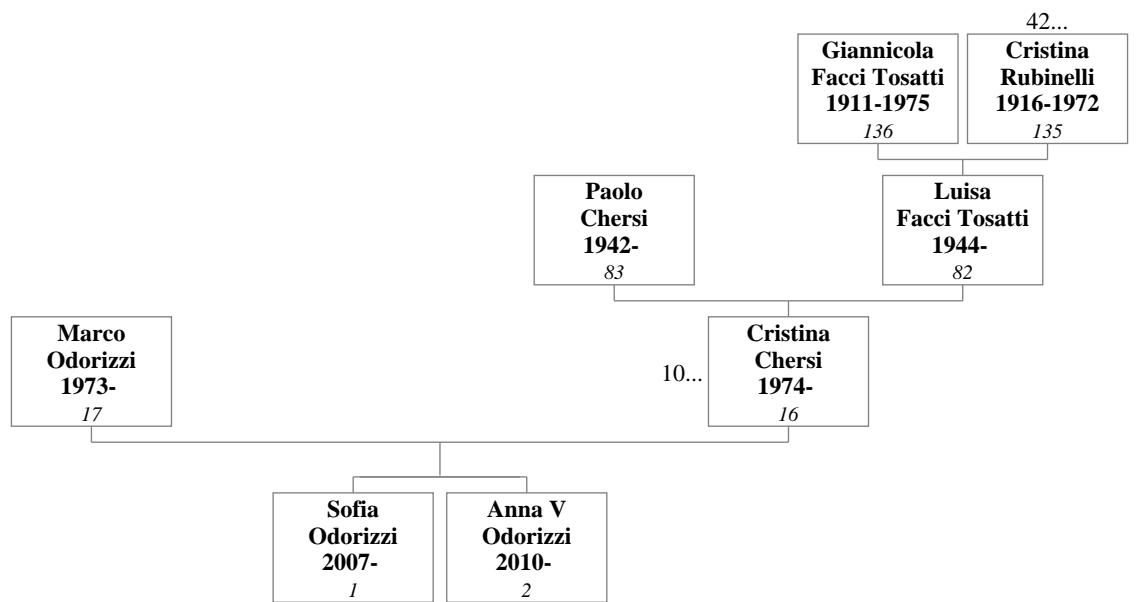

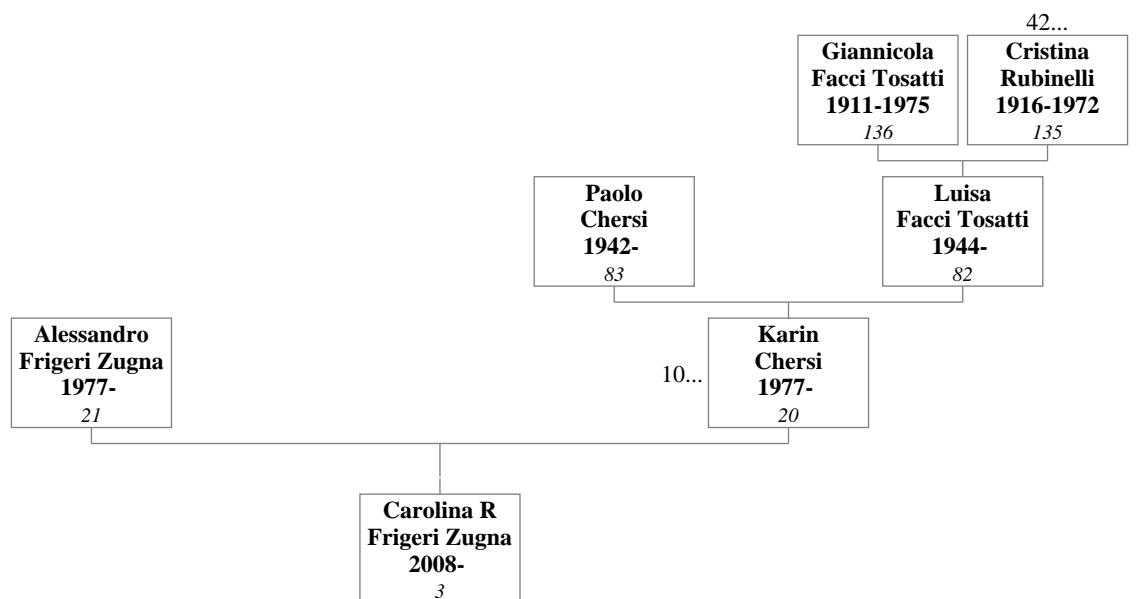

Ogni albero genealogico mostra quattro generazioni alla volta (figli, genitori, nonni e bisnonni) di un gruppo familiare. Per evitare ripetizioni, un gruppo familiare che è incluso interamente all'interno di un altro albero genealogico può non essere stato riportato separatamente.

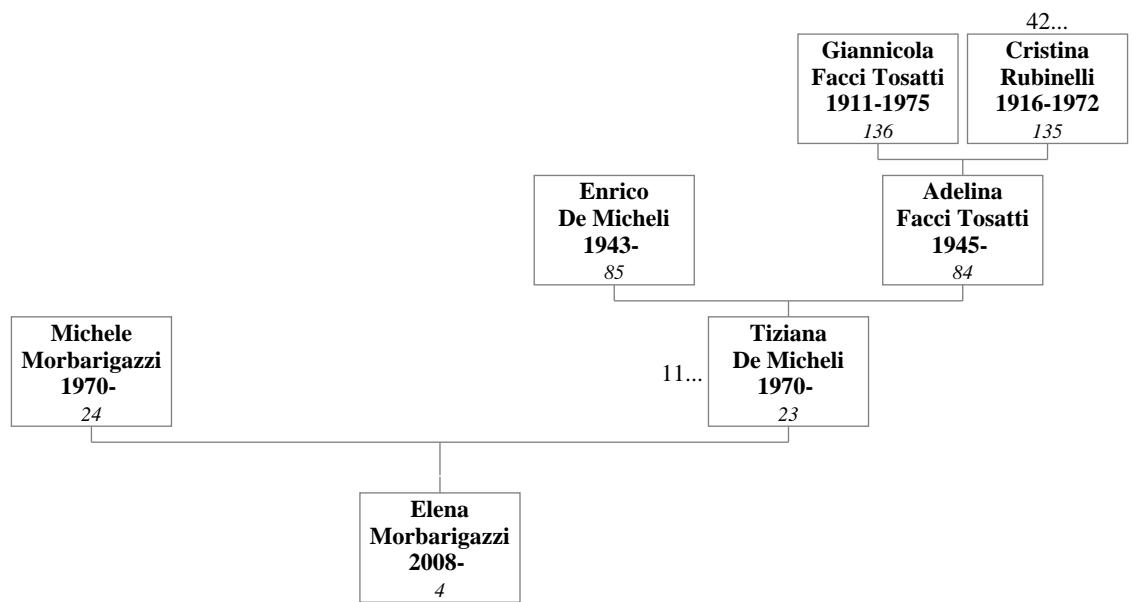

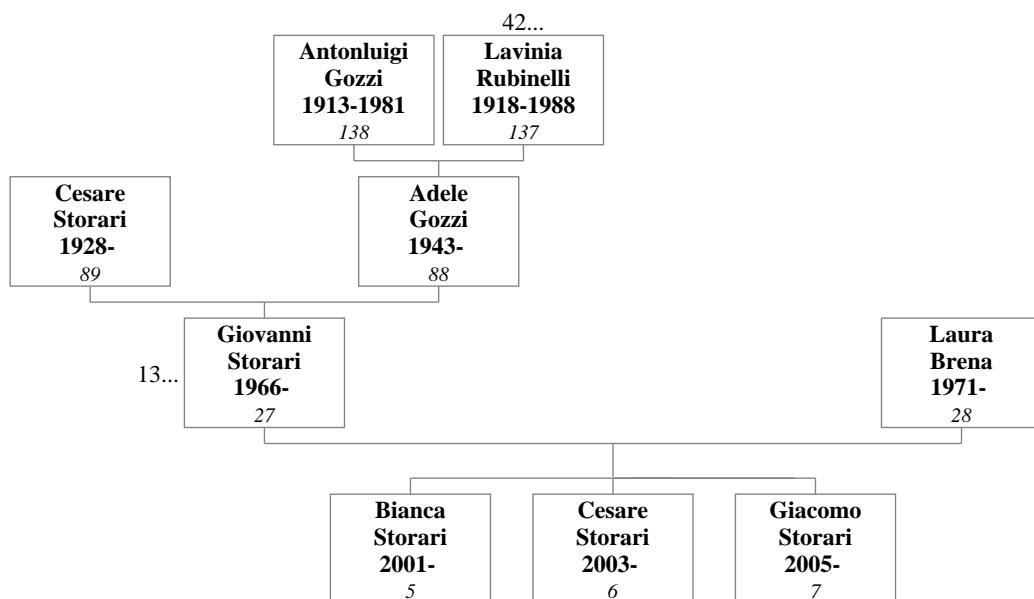

Per collegare i gruppi familiari tra i vari alberi riportati, sopra le caselle dei bisnonni(riga superiore) è indicato il numero dell'albero in cui, eventualmente, il bisnonno è riportato come figlio. Analogamente,il numero dell'albero genealogico collegato è indicato alla sinistra della casella di un genitore o di un nonno se tale persona ha fratelli e, infine, sotto la casella di un figlio (riga inferiore) se quest'ultimo ha figli.

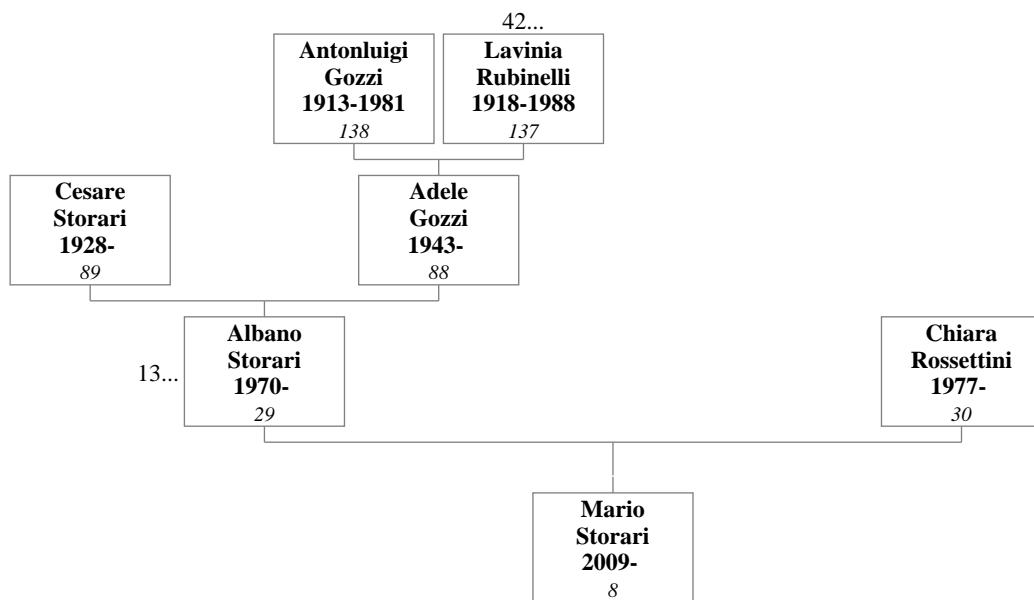

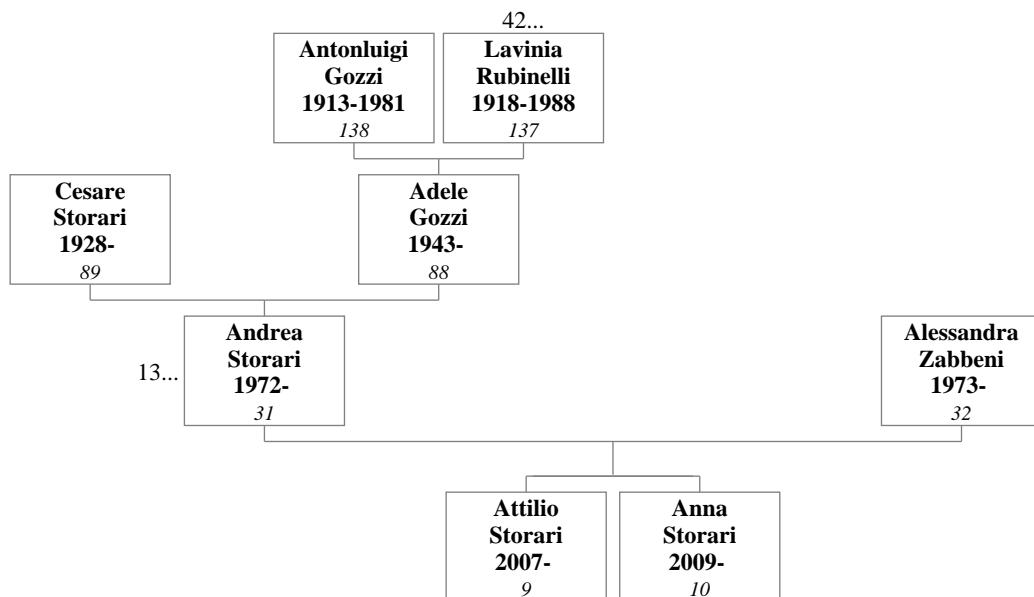

Nel caso di unioni multiple, il numero di riferimento di continuazione preceduto da "=" è indicato alla destra della casella. Questo numero indica l'albero genealogico in cui quella persona è riportata con un altro partner.

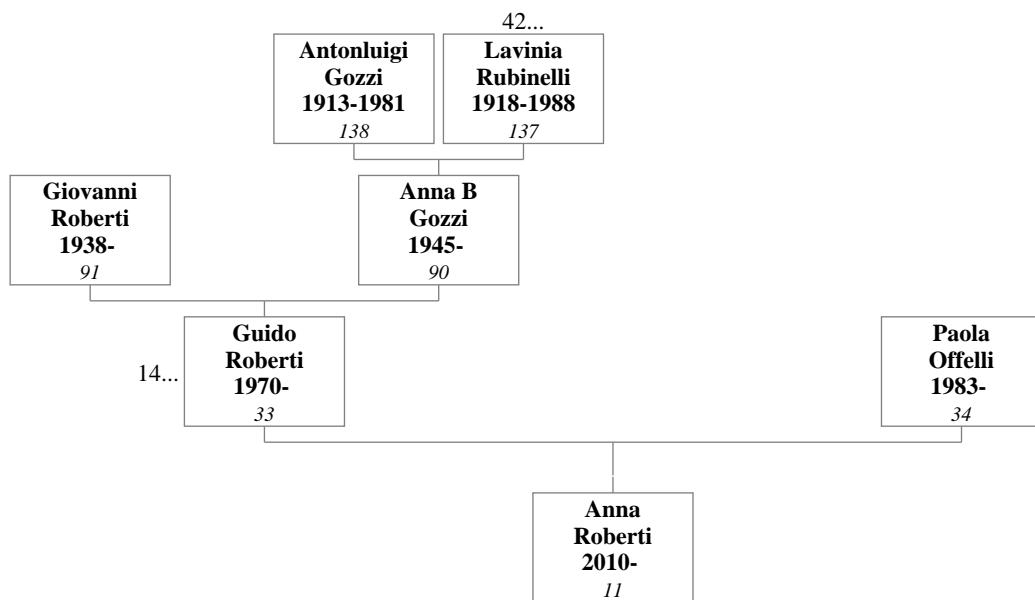

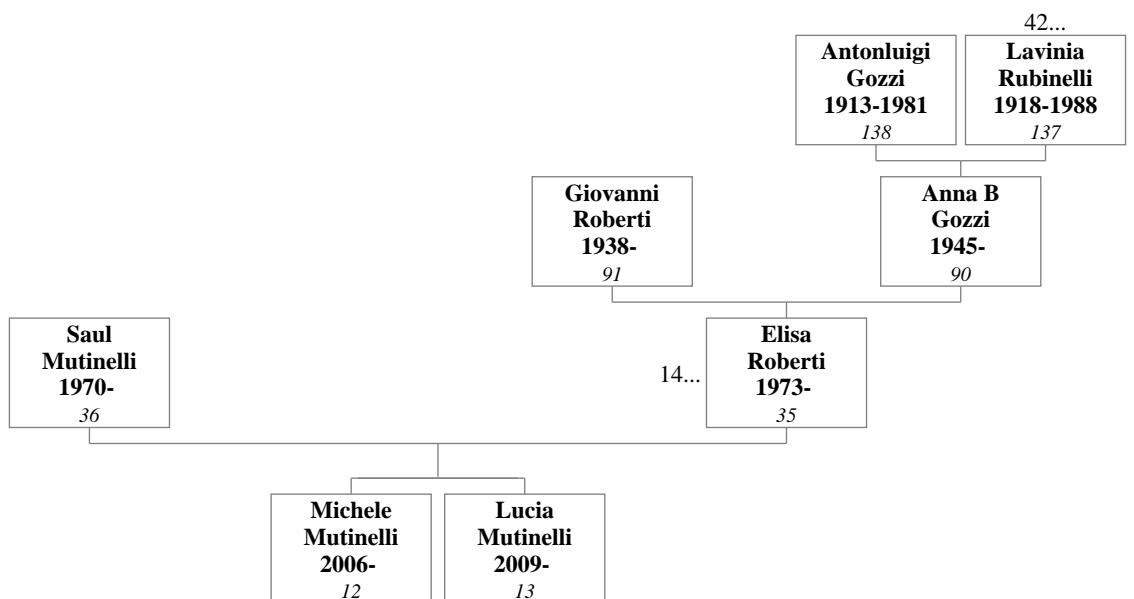

Nei casi di figli adottati (o affidati), il collegamento è indicato con una linea tratteggiata e un numero di riferimento di continuazione preceduto da "=" indicato all'interno della casella della persona. Questo numero indica l'albero in cui quella persona è riportata con i suoi genitori naturali.
